The Summer Wrap Up

As our summer comes to an end, we are starting to get geared up for all of our winter friends to return for another season.

I have already heard from some residents that are in the process of heading down our way and I look forward to seeing them soon. I hope and pray that each of your journeys South will be a safe and joyful one.

The roads are completed along with other summer projects and we have somehow managed to already put new projects on our list.

These projects will to be done in the near future.

The kids are back in school and in full swing with all the activities that come with that. Kayla is playing volleyball on the high school varsity team this year. Molly is studying in Spain for the first semester of her senior year and we all can't wait until her return in early December. Conner is keeping up with his bowling and just this past weekend was in a tournament in Gainesville where he placed 13th out of 30 in his division.

Dad is continuing to do very well after his surgery and we are truly grateful for that. We do, however, have one sad note to let you know about, and that is Dorothy has been diagnosed with breast cancer.

She has undergone surgery to remove 2 large tumors and we are now just waiting to meet with her new oncologist to see what kind of treatment she will need. She is such a strong trooper and doesn't let anything get her down. I hope I grow up to be just like her one day. Pictures are posted on the next page of the new roads and from our family cruise vacation which was a blast. It was a great treat to be able to share vacation time with lots of members from both sides of our family.

Phillip and I are looking forward to a new season of making memories and having fun with all of you. Happy Fall to each and everyone of you, and as you come this way, please pack some cooler weather for us thanks.

Ralph & Edna

Just because someone doesn't love you the way you want them too, doesn't mean they don't love you with all they have. Ralph and Edna were both patients in a mental hospital. One day while they were walking past the hospital swimming pool Ralph suddenly jumped into the deep end.

He sank to the bottom of the pool and stayed there.

Edna promptly jumped in to save him. She swam to the bottom and pulled him out. When the Head Nurse Director became aware of Edna's heroic act she immediately ordered her to be discharged from the hospital, as she now considered her to be mentally stable.

When she went to tell Edna the news she said, 'Edna, I have good news and bad news. The good news is you're being discharged, since you were able to rationally respond to a crisis by jumping in and saving the life of the person you love. I have concluded that your act displays sound mindedness.

'The bad news is, Ralph hung himself in the bathroom with his bathrobe belt right after you saved him. I am so sorry, but he's dead.'

Edna replied, 'He didn't hang himself. I put him there to dry.... How soon can I go home?'
